Ugur Kazdal

Solutions Architect at AWS
Dubai, United Arab Emirates

Summary

I didn't "touch" these technologies.

I lived in them. Day and night. In production. When things broke.

Over time, that turned into real, battle-tested experience across the stack:

Languages

Golang, Node.js, JavaScript, TypeScript, BASH,php, dotnet core,

Infrastructure & Cloud

AWS (EKS, ECS, Lambda, CloudFront, S3, RDS, Aurora)
Kubernetes, Docker, Terraform, Helm
Microservices at scale (the fun and the painful parts)

Databases

PostgreSQL, MongoDB, MySQL
Redis, Valkey
Vector databases for embedding & semantic search

DevOps & Testing

TDD, Selenium
Jenkins, GitHub Actions, Bitbucket Pipelines
Automated deployments
Observability with Prometheus & Grafana

Architecture

Event-driven systems
REST & gRPC APIs
WebSockets
Serverless backends
Distributed system design (yes, including trade-offs)

Workflows

CI/CD, IaC

Container orchestration
Production-grade monitoring

In-Love
Nginx
Linux system administration
Performance tuning when milliseconds actually matter

And yes I also built mobile and desktop games, handling everything from game logic to performance tuning and shipping.

I care about building systems that survive reality, not just look good in diagrams.
